

Twenty-Eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time, October 15, 2017

Then he said to his slaves, 'The wedding is ready, but those invited were not worthy. Go therefore into the main streets, and invite everyone you find to the wedding banquet.' Those slaves went out into the streets and gathered all whom they found, both good and bad; so the wedding hall was filled with guests. (Mt 22: 1-14)

Host a Family Program - our 2nd family

Friends, for the last one year we were supporting the Almakhoul family from Syria. We thank God and all the Volunteers and donors for supporting the family. Your sacrifices and the enthusiasm and cooperation of the family made it a success story. They are doing pretty good.

Our 2nd family, a 3 member one, will be arriving on November 1st. I am sure that with the dedication of our Volunteers and the support you are giving we will be able to help them too. Again we thank God for giving us the courage and good will to do His will. May God bless each one of you for your compassion and support. Fr.Paul

POPE FRANCIS
 General Audience October 11, 2017

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

Today I wish to speak about that dimension of hope which we can call attentive waiting. Jesus tells his disciples to be like those who await the return of their master, with lamps alight (cf. Lk 12:35-36). As Christians, therefore, we are always attentive, awaiting the Lord's return, when God will be all in all (cf. 1 Cor 15:28). Every day is a new opportunity to be attentive to God, to welcome the day as his gift, and to live that day by offering our good works to him. Such attentiveness requires patience, however, if we are not to lose sight of God's grace when our days are monotonous, or our difficulties many. For no night is so long, as to make us forget the joy that comes with dawn. As Christians, we know that Christ will return; that no matter what we may suffer, life has its purpose and deeper meaning, and that the merciful Lord will greet us at its end. Thus we can look upon history and our own lives with confidence and hope, knowing that the future is not guided solely by the work of our hands but by God's providence. May we repeat everyday the words of the first disciples: "Come, Lord Jesus!" (Rev. 22:20). And in our most difficult moments, may we hear the consoling response of Jesus: "Behold, I am coming soon" (Rev. 22:7).

World Mission Sunday

Next Sunday our parish will celebrate World Mission Sunday. It represents a global sign of the universal Church and Mission. We are invited to reach out and help build the Church in the most remote areas across our world. Your prayers and donations will support churches, hospitals, schools, and vocations to priesthood and religious life. Please show your generosity as much as possible during this collection, because it provides assistance to the young dioceses in Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Pacific Islands.

"Defending Life Where You Are"
